MERRIAM, of Minnesota, has issued a circular letter, many thousand copies of which will be mailed throughout the state, setting forth the terrible destitution which exists in Russia and asking that the people who are blessed with homes, goods and money and can look forward to continued prosperity will do all in their power to mitigate the terrible suffering of these poor starving Russians.

The Greek Catholic priests of the United States held a convention at Wilkesbarre, Pa., recently. Some of the priests wanted to cut off all allegiance to Rome and to establish an episcopacy of their own. The trouble arose from an ultimatum from Rome ordering all Greek priests who owe allegiance to Rome and are married to return to Europe. Rome's object is to place only celibate priests in charge of congregations in the United States.

While church work was not contemplated in connection with the golden jubilee of Archbishop Kenrick, the archbishops and clergy generally held a secret meeting at which calls from several sections for new sees were considered and those who had complaints placed them before the churchmen. It is fairly well understood that when Mr. O'Brien, of the papal household, returns to Rome he will carry recommendations for the establishment of new dioceses in Iowa, Nebraska and other northwest points.

GEORGE TAYLOR, member of parliament for Leeds, says he will reintroduce at the coming session of the Canadian parliament his alien labor act. This measure is somewhat similar in its provisions to the United States labor law and is intended to be retaliatory in its effects. Mr. Taylor claims that he can carry his bill through parliament. It will prohibit laborers who reside in the United States from crossing into Canada and working there for a day. The late Sir John McDonald induced Mr. Taylor to withdraw the measure when it was before parliament last year, giving as his reason that the whole question was then the subject of diplomatic relations.

The standing committee of the deep sea harbor congress of the west has issued a circular at Denver, Col., in which they declare that anything but a thirty feet deep harbor would be of no benefit to much the larger part of the transmississippi country. Anything short of a harbor for the largest ocean vessels would not divert commerce to the gulf or benefit Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah and New Mexico or the country north or west of them. But such a harbor as the government has contracted to construct at Galveston will work a commercial revolution and save hundreds of millions of dollars annually which is now paid in unnecessary railroad transportation.

Dr. VAN AERTZCLAIR, rector of the Belgian missions in northern China, states that the Mongolian prince, who is reported to have been killed by the rebels, was converted to Christianity by the Belgian missionaries. He had just rejoined the station when the insurrection broke out. Dr. Van Aertzclair further stated that he did not believe the members of the temperance league were guilty of committing the outrages which had been laid to them. The league, he said, was composed of devout men who were very friendly to the missionaries. It was far more probable that the massacre had been committed by the Water Lily society, a secret organization which the government is making every effort to suppress. Many of the society professed Christianity for political reasons.

BURSTING BALLOON.

Horrible Death of an Acrobat at Bombay, India.

BOMBAY, Dec. 11.—An accident occurred here yesterday by which a daring acrobat met a most horrible death in the sight of many persons. The victim was Lieut. Mansfield, who had gained quite a reputation by his thrilling jumps from a balloon at a great altitude. Recently, in the presence of a great crowd, he made a balloon ascension and performed one of his wonderful feats. When he had reached the height of 11,000 feet Mansfield grasped his parachute and jumped from the car. The machine worked perfectly and the daring acrobat reached the ground in safety amid the cheers of the people, who watched his every movement with nervous anxiety. He subsequently announced that he would make another jump from a still greater height, and fixed upon to-day as the day for his risky experiment. The wonderful performance of Mansfield had caused a considerable stir among the residents of Bombay and adjacent districts, and as a consequence the Victoria Gardens in this city, which had been selected as the place from which the balloon would be liberated, were thronged with a vast crowd at the hour for the ascension. Every condition of society was represented in the immense gathering. Among those present were his excellency, Lord Harris, governor of the Bombay presidency, and most of the civil and military authorities. The appearance of Mansfield was the occasion for long applause.

The preparations for the ascent were soon completed, and at a signal from the acrobat the guy ropes were cut and the balloon was liberated amid a storm of cheering. When freed from the restraining ropes the huge air ship shot upward with lightning-like velocity, and the cheering was at once hushed as the crowd instantly perceived that something was wrong. The balloon had only reached a height of about 400 feet when it burst with a loud and startling explosion and immediately began to fall to the earth. Mansfield made the most desperate efforts to disengage the parachute from the collapsed balloon, but it had become entangled in the ropes and the unfortunate man was soon forced to release his hold. The horrified spectators uttered cries of dismay as they saw his body come twirling towards them, and some of the ladies fainted at the terrible sight. Mansfield struck the ground with terrific force and was instantly killed, his body being crushed and mangled in a terrible manner.

An investigation into the cause of the accident revealed the fact that in a previous descent the balloon had fallen into the sea and been somewhat damaged, and that the break then sustained had been improperly repaired, with the fatal result related.

A POET'S BAD BOY.

A Youthful Stage Robber Proves to Be the Son of Joaquin Miller, the Poet of the Sierras.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9.—Joseph McKay, who is in jail at Ukiah, Cal., charged with stage robbery, has been found to be the son of Joaquin Miller, the "Poet of the Sierras." The real name of the young man is Harry Miller. He is 22 years of age and is the son of the poet and the latter's first wife, Minnie Myrtle. On November 13 the Ukiah and Eureka stage was held up, nineteen miles from Ukiah, by a masked man armed with a rifle. Charles Lambert, the stage driver, hastily complied with the demand of the highwayman to throw out the express box, but demurred when ordered to hand over the mail bags, saying they were on the inside of the stage. "Well, get down and get them out," was the robber's response.

Lambert accordingly started to drag out the sacks. The stage was heading up grade and the horses kept backing so that Lambert obtained the highwayman's permission to drive to a level place, and drove to the crest of what is known as "Robber's hill."

Instead of stopping when he reached the top, Lambert lashed the horses and went dashing down the grade out of danger. Reaching Ukiah, the stage driver told his story to the sheriff, and the latter started on the trail. He found the empty treasure box and learned that a farm house in the vicinity of Willetts village, five miles distant, had been robbed a few days previously of a rifle and other articles similar to those in the possession of the masked man who stopped the stage.

The sheriff followed to Hopland, fourteen miles south of Ukiah, and there learned that Miller had been cutting wood for a man named Willard; he had left Willard's four days prior to the stage robbery. He obtained his mail from the post office and again disappeared. On searching Willard's wood pile the sheriff found a letter dated from the Hermitage, Oakland Heights, which is the home of Joaquin Miller, and signed: "Your brother, George Miller."

GAS EXPLOSION.

Three Men Killed and Several Injured By an Explosion at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 9.—An explosion of gas occurred at the works of the Maryland Steel Co., Sparrow's Point, and several men were injured. Three of the victims have since died. Another is not expected to live. Four others were badly injured, but they are not believed to be fatally hurt. The dead are:

Arthur M. Austin, 22 years old, of Baltimore, unmarried.

George Braidwood, of Baltimore, married.

John Lynch, of Sparrow's Point, unmarried.

The wounded are:

Arthur Pugh, of Highlandtown, very badly burned and internally injured.

Washington Sapp, brakeman of a shifting engine, struck by flying debris.

Thomas Miller, colored, aged 22, of Linwood, N. C., face and hands burned.

August Bell, colored, aged 25, of Montpelier, Va., face and hands burned.

Forty men were at work in the immediate vicinity when the explosion took place. The furnace was being blown out for repairs. Hot bricks were thrown in every direction with great force. The flames spread rapidly and enveloped some of the injured men whom the flying bricks had knocked senseless. The uninjured workmen at once went to the rescue of their co-laborers, and dragged them out of further danger. Austin was almost instantly killed. Braidwood lingered in great agony for three hours and Lynch lived six hours after the accident. The cause of the explosion is not known, but it probably occurred from a water pipe springing a leak. The noise of the explosion was distinctly heard three miles away. A jury of inquest brought in a verdict that the accident was unavoidable and unaccountable, and that no blame attached to the company.

RUSSIAN DESTITUTION.

Peculiarities of the Distress—Good Crops in the Caucasus.

WARSAW, Dec. 9.—There is much reason to suppose that there will be a famine in Russia next year. The autumn wheat has been seriously injured by the rain, and it is very probable that the spring crops in many of the eastern governments will turn out no better than they did this year. Indeed, the outlook in Russia is very gloomy and every one is preparing for a very bad winter.

Many peasants in the famine-stricken districts refuse to accept employment on government works. Nihilist agents are working actively to persuade the peasants that the czar can and ought to supply them with food. The large factories at Lodz are stopping work for want of orders, leaving the operatives in a destitute condition.

The failure of the crops in Russia has not been universal. In the Caucasus the harvest was so abundant that grain is still rotting at the stations for want of rolling stock to carry it away. The government has tried to remedy this drawback by sending over 2,000 trucks south but these will not be sufficient.

In some of the Russian famine districts the priests refuse to marry peasants who have no means of subsistence. Disease is rife among the famishing people and thousands have taken to mendicancy and robbery. Hundreds of children are dying of starvation on the highways.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Dec. 9.—Deputy United States Marshal Frank M. Canton has been arrested at Buffalo charged with the murder of John A. Tisdale, one of the "rustlers" assassinated last week. The warrant is sworn to by the brother of the dead man. "Two more 'rustlers' have been applied to Sheriff Angus for protection. They show brief, unsigned 'warnings.' In the notes they are charged with 'rustling,' and ordered to leave the town. It is common talk through the north that the 'rustlers' will kill Fred Hess and Billy Irvine, range managers for the two big camps.
